AT the Council Chamber Whitehall, the 7th Day of November, 1761,

PRESENT,

The Lords of His Majesty's most Honourable Privy Council.

WHEREAS Information hath been given to the Lords of His Majesty's most Honourable Privy Council, that a great Number of Journeymen, in the Cabinet and Chair Branches, have lately entered into a Combination to lessen the Hours of their daily Work, and to raise the Price of their Piece Work; and that on Monday the 14th of September last, at Nine of the Clock in the Morning, the Journeymen, in several of the Shops of the principal Cabinet and Chair-makers in London and Westminster, came in Bodies to their respective Masters, and demanded the Lessening their daily Hours of Work, and Raising the Prices of their Piece Work; which being refused, they immediately quitted their Services. That the said Masters have, by all Means, endeavoured to prevail on the said Journeymen to return to their Business, and offered them Protection and Encouragement according to their Merit; notwithstanding which, they hold frequent Meetings at Publick Houses, and raise Subscriptions among themselves for supporting such Journeymen as are unemployed, and for carrying their Demands into Execution; which, if complied with, would increase the Prices of Work, and greatly affect not only the Foreign Trade of those Commodities, but also those that are provided for Home Consumption. — And whereas it hath been further represented, That the said Journeymen Cabinet and Chair-makers, so in Combination, deter and hinder others from working as usual, and threaten them with Death or Maiming, if they do not come into, and assist them in their Demands—In order to put a Stop to such unlawful Combinations and riotous Proceedings—It is hereby Ordered in Council, That all and every His Majesty's Justices of the Peace, Sheriffs, Under Sheriffs, and all other Civil Magistrates whatsoever, do cause the Laws against such Offenders to be immediately put into Execution, and use their utmost Endeavours to put an immediate Stop to such unlawful Meetings and Combinations; and that, in order to prevent the same, they do particularly enquire into the Behaviour of all Masters of Publick Houses, where the said Journeymen assemble and resort, in order to carry on their illegal Practices, to the End that such Prosecutions may be carried on against them, as may be thought just and reasonable, to prevent this great Evil: And their Lordships do hereby Command the respective Justices of the Peace, and other Magistrates, that they do, from Time to Time, transmit an exact Account of what they shall do, pursuant to this their Lordships Order, to one of His Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State.

St. James's, November 20.

This Day the following Addreſs was read and preſented to His Majeſty, by the Rev. Mr. Thompſon, jun. accompanied by a Deputation from the Body of Diſſenting Miniſters in and about the Cities of London and Weſtminſter, introduced by the Lord of the Bed Chamber in Waiting, accompanied by His Grace the Duke of Newcaſtle.

To the King's moſt Excellent Majeſty.

Moſt gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majeſty's moſt dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Proteſtant Diſſenting Miniſters in and about the Cities of London and Weſtminſter, approach your Royal Preſence, with the ſincereſt Congratulations, on Account of your auſpicious Nuptials with a Princeſs, diſtinguiſhed for Her amiable Endowments and eminent Virtues, as well as for Her Deſcent from an ancient and illuſtrious Family, firmly attached to the Proteſtant Religion, and to your Majeſty's Royal Houſe.

If it be a Prince's Glory to reign in the Hearts of His Subjects, your Majeſty ſtands diſtinguiſhed among the beſt and moſt juſtly beloved of your Royal Predeceſſors. With the moſt fervent Adoration of Divine Providence we obſerve, that your Majeſty's Arms are crowned with Victory in all Parts of the Globe; that the Example of your Piety and perſonal Virtues commands profound Reverence at Home, and will, we truſt, by Degrees, promote a general Reformation; and that Government is adminiſtered with ſo wiſe and impartial a Hand, that even a free People entertain no Jealouſy of that Power, which they ſee faithfully exerted for the univerſal Good.

Amidſt ſuch various Sources of Joy, what Wiſh could your affectionate Subjects have formed, more intereſting to your Majeſty, or to themſelves, who experience their Sovereign's Happineſs to be their own, than the Alliance you have contracted with an Illuſtrious Princeſs, deſervedly the Delight of your Royal Heart, as well as Partner of your Throne; whoſe amiable and gentle Virtues will alleviate the Cares of a Crown, and yield Satisfactions, from this Sacred Bond of virtuous Friendſhip, which Royalty itſelf cannot beſtow. And it is a juſt Foundation for our moſt grateful Praiſes to the Almighty, that, by this auſpicious Union, a Proſpect is opened of perpetuating to Poſterity, the invaluable Bleſſings we enjoy.

At the Throne of Grace, we ardently implore the Divine Benediction on your Royal Perſon and Conſort. May your conjugal and domeſtick Felicity be uninterrupted and increaſing; and may a Race of Princes deſcend from your Majeſties, who ſhall inherit your Virtues, be the Guardians of our Civil and Sacred Liberties, Patrons of Religion, and Ornaments to human Nature. And when your Majeſty, after having long reigned with unexampled Glory to yourſelf and your Kingdoms, ſhall, through the Divine Goodneſs, receive an immortal Crown; may the Imperial Diadem, which hath been lately placed on your Royal Head, amidſt the repeated Acclamations of a loyal and happy People, be tranſmitted to your Deſcendants, and worn, with equal Dignity and Splendor, to the lateſt Generations.

To which His Majeſty was pleaſed to give this moſt gracious Anſwer.

I Thank you for this loyal and affectionate Addreſs. Your Congratulations upon My Marriage are extremely agreeable to Me. You may be aſſured of My Protection, and of my Care and Attention, to ſupport the Proteſtant Intereſt, and to maintain the Toleration inviolable.

Immediately after, they were introduced to Her Majeſty, by his Grace the Duke of Manchester, with the following Addreſs, which was read and preſented by the Rev. Mr. Thompſon, jun.

To the Queen.

Moſt Gracious Queen,

WE His Majeſty's moſt faithful and loyal Subjects, the Proteſtant Diſſenting Miniſters in and about the Cities of London and Weſtminſter, beg Leave to approach your Royal Preſence with the moſt unfeigned Expreſſions of Joy and of Gratitude to the Great Governor of the World, on Account of your ſafe Arrival in theſe Kingdoms, and your auſpicious Nuptials with our Auguſt Sovereign, whoſe Perſonal Virtues, and Princely Endowments, muſt endear Him to your Majeſty, more than the Crown He wears. We congratulate your Majeſty, not ſo much on the Grandeur of the Throne you are called to ſhare; a Throne, which Divine Providence hath exalted to ſuch diſtinguiſhed Eminence in the Eyes of all Europe, as on thoſe amiable Qualities and ſignal Virtues, for which you have been ſelected to render our Sovereign, and in Him the Nation, happy.

Our Prayers ſhall continually aſcend to the Almighty, for the mutual Felicity of the King and of your Majeſty: May you reap the bleſſed Fruits of your Union, to the Joy of the preſent Age, and the Happineſs of Poſterity: And in ſome diſtant, very diſtant Period, compleat in Virtue, full of Glory, and leaving Monuments of your Renown to future Generations, who ſhall riſe up and call you Bleſſed; may your Majeſties exchange your earthly Crowns for Celeſtial Diadems, that ſhall never fade away.

To which Her Majeſty was pleaſed to give this very gracious Anſwer.

I Thank you for this Mark of your Duty to the King, and Affection to Me: You may depend on my good Wiſhes.

Magdebourg, Nov. 10. Accounts from the King of Pruſſia ſay, That on the 4th Inſtant he continued at Strehlen, and General Laudohn at Freyburgh. It is ſaid, that General Shenkendorff, who commands the Detachment, which was ſent to ſuccour Glogau, in Caſe of Need, had Orders to march from thence into the New Marche, to join General Platen near Stargart.

From Pomerania there is nothing that can be depended on; but it is ſtill confidently aſſerted, that ſome Veſſels, loaded with Proviſions, &c. have got ſafe into the Port of Colberg: That the Garriſon, as well as the Army of the Prince of Wirtemberg, which covers that Place, are provided with every Thing neceſſary for ſome Weeks; and that, in an Attack lately made, the Ruſſians had been repulſed with very conſiderable Loſs. The Corps of General Romanzow is ſaid to keep its former Poſition, oppoſite to the Prince of Wirtemberg's Camp, and the whole Ruſſian Army to continue in that Neighbourhood.

By Letters, of the 6th Inſtant, from Prince Henry's Army, we hear, that on the 5th, the Auſtrians had attacked their advanced Poſts, and had eſtabliſhed themſelves at Noſſen and Roſwein, the Troops, that were in thoſe Places, being withdrawn; and that his Royal Highneſs had thought proper to move his Quarters from Schlettau to Branitz, about three Quarters of a German Mile to his Right; but that the reſt of the Army remained in their former Poſition.

Cologne, Nov. 13. M. de Vogué, Lieutenant General, is named Commandant here, in the room of M. D'Andlau, who is to command at Liege. The Diſlocation of Prince Soubiſe's Army is made, and all the Troops are in full March to their ſeveral Deſtinations. The Garriſon of this Town, conſiſting of nine Battalions, arrived here To-day; and the ſeveral Regiments, nominated to return to France, are conſiderably advanced on their March.

Liege, Nov. 13. The Prince of Soubiſe having appointed Count D'Andlau Commandant of this City, the Chapter of St. Lambert took Yeſterday the Reſolution of deſiring the Cardinal Biſhop to write to Prince Soubiſe to ſend any other Commandant, he ſhall chuſe, except Count D'Andlau. This Day a Deputation of the Chapter were ſent to the Etat Noble and the Tiers Etat, to require them to join in their Requeſt to his Highneſs, which they thought fit to comply with; and the Cardinal has been entreated by the three States to write to Prince Soubiſe to nominate another Commandant.

The Regiment of Noailles, Cavalry, is expected here the 15th. The 16th, four Squadrons of the Gendarmerie will arrive; alſo 1200 Horſe that have been employed this Campaign in tranſporting Proviſions to the Army, and that are now returning to France.
